I am a behavioural and evolutionary ecologist, mainly interested in the causes and consequences of individual-, population- and species-level variation in behaviour, morphology and life-history, how it varies across space and time and how it is shaped by environmental conditions. My research is especially focused on dispersal, as a key trait bridging ecological and evolutionary dynamics, and on the role of behaviour in explaining species' ability (or inability) to persist in increasingly anthropogenic environments (especially cities). I develop these research themes using a combination of experiments, monitoring in naturalistic contexts and individual-based models.

Current position

Postdoctoral researcher

2019-present	INRAE (formerly INRA), UMR Institut Sophia Agrobiotech, Sophia Antipolis, France
	Research themes: Range expansions, population dynamics, dispersal evolution, individual-based modelling PI: Dr. Elodie Vercken (INRA)

Previously held positions

ATER (fixed-term research and teaching associate)

2016-2018	University of Rennes 1, UMR 6553 Ecobio, France
	Research themes: Dispersal ecology and evolution, phenotypic syndromes, evolutionary ecology in cities Teaching: Statistics for biologists, ecology, zoology

Postdoctoral researcher

2015-2016	Ghent University, Department of Biology, Terrestrial Ecology unit, Gent, Belgium
	"Determinants of urbanisation-driven divergence in behaviours" (12 months, funded by a personal Fyssen Foundation fellowship) Mentor: Prof. Dries Bonte (Ghent Univ.).

Research assistant (PhD student / candidate in Biology)

2011 - 2014	University of Rennes 1, UMR 6553 Ecobio, France
	"Individual and environmental drivers of dispersal in a hermaphrodite species, the land snail Cornu aspersum " (with great honours). Available online at: http://www.theses.fr/en/2014REN1S068 Supervisors: Dr Armelle Ansart, Prof. Luc Madec (Univ. Rennes 1). Reviewers: Prof. Michel Baguette (MNHN), Prof. Dries Bonte (Ghent Univ.).

Examiners: Dr Jean-François Le Galliard (CNRS), Dr Benoît Facon (INRA)

Teaching and supervision of trainees

Teaching

2016-2018	Fixed-term teaching and research associate (“ATER”), University of Rennes 1, France Lectures, practical and field courses in Statistics and Ecology to BSc and MSc students (>192 hours/year).
2011-2012	Teaching assistant (“moniteur”), University of Rennes 1, France Theoretical and practical courses in Ecology, Evolution and Statistics to BSc and MSc students (64 hours)

Classes taught or co-taught in these positions include:

Statistics	Advanced R for data analysis (first year of MSc) ~ 20 h Statistical tools, methodologies, and experimental design (several levels, second year of BSc studies to first year of Master studies) ~230h
Ecology	General ecology (first year of BSc studies) ~80h Community ecology (third year of BSc studies and first year of MSc) ~ 42h Spatial ecology (movement ecology; first year of MSc) ~4h Ecological bases of vegetal production (third year of BSc studies) ~ 12h Initiation to GIS (second year of BSc studies) ~ 4h
Zoology	Introduction to diversity of life (first year of BSc studies) ~30h Advanced animal diversity (insects; third year of BSc studies) ~ 40h Physiology of nutrition, development, growth (third year of BSc studies); ~6h

Supervision of trainees

2012-2020	Supervision of 11 MSc students and 4 BSc students (1 to 6 months training periods): field and lab studies of dispersal and behaviour in gastropods and arthropods, data synthesis and individual-based modelling.

Featured in media

Research I have participated in has been featured by various general and specialist outlets including the RTBF, De Standaard, Le Temps, Scientific American, Der Tagesspiegel, as well as local journals and television channels...

Skills

Scientific fields

Behavioural ecology, evolutionary ecology, dispersal ecology and evolution, urban ecology, population ecology, landscape ecology, spatial ecology

Animal ecology (molluscs and arthropods)

Life-history traits measurements, behavioural observations, animal trajectory analysis, field sampling, mark-recapture methods, species identification (birds, insects, land snails), rearing, dissection, basic molecular biology and biochemical analyses (DNA extraction, PCR, EIA assays)

Languages

French: Mother tongue
English: Very good oral and written skills
German: Elementary knowledge ('false beginner' level)

Statistics

Linear, Generalized Linear and Generalized Additive (Mixed) Models, including quantitative genetics applications (animal model)
Nonlinear (mixed) models
Cox model and survival regression
Discrete choice models
Mark-recapture models (CJS and multi-state models)
Phylogenetic comparative analyses
Multivariate analyses (PCA/COA/RDA/LDA)
Bayesian Inference
